PERSONAL IMPACT STATEMENT

John Doe · collision of February 6, 2026 · written by the client in his own words

> Form prompts: How has your daily life changed since the collision? What can't you do, or do differently, at work and at home? Is there anything else you want us to know? Write it in your own words; nobody at the firm will change what you write.

Before February 6 I was fine. I had just started at Northgate as a shift lead and I played pickup basketball twice a week at the rec center. I lived with my mom.

My neck hurt from the day of the crash and by the 18th my right hand was going numb. I called out of work that first week, then went back because I had just started the job. Lifting boxes overhead still sets off the tingling in my thumb and first finger. I haven't played basketball since February.

The crash happened at the corner of our house. I see that stop sign every day. On April 2 my mom was driving me home from therapy and we stopped right there and a truck came up Birch. I felt like it was going to hit us again. My heart was pounding and I couldn't breathe and I got out of the car and walked home. After that I couldn't get in a car to go to therapy. I took the bus to work because it doesn't go by the corner. I used the back door. I wasn't sleeping, maybe four hours, and I kept hearing the crunch from the crash. I stopped answering my phone, even when the law office and the therapy place called. I was embarrassed. I didn't know how to say it.

When I finally called back on April 17 it helped to just say it. Dr. Reyes sent me to a counselor through work and I did six sessions. It helped. I can ride with my mom now and I've been past the corner a few times with her. I still tense up at intersections, and I still don't like going out the front door.

I missed four therapy visits in April. It wasn't that I didn't care about getting better. I couldn't make myself get in the car.

I wrote this statement myself. It is true to the best of my knowledge.
