1. Damage and repair history

Left-side impact while parked at the curb (struck on the driver side by another vehicle pushed into it). Repairs per the estimate of 02/16/2026 and teardown Supplement 1 of 03/02/2026: front bumper system, hood, L fender, L headlamp, L front door shell, radiator support, radiator and A/C condenser, L front suspension; structural: L front pillar (A-pillar) outer panel sectioned and replaced, L upper apron reinforcement replaced, vehicle set up and measured on a structural bench; windshield removed and reinstalled, ADAS camera recalibrated.

Inspection 05/04/2026. Repair quality is workmanlike: panel gaps even, paint match acceptable, no warning lamps, post-repair measurement report reviewed. No repair-related defects found. This report therefore addresses inherent diminished value only: the loss in market value that remains after a proper repair because the vehicle now carries a structural-damage history.

2. History-report disclosure

Date	Vehicle history report entry (report pulled 05/05/2026)
02/06/2026	Accident reported — Riverton PD. Vehicle struck while parked. Damage: left side. Towed.
03/02/2026	Damage report — insurance claim: structural damage reported (left front pillar / A-pillar).
04/24/2026	Repair facility record — collision repair completed, structural section repair.

Every prospective buyer and dealer appraiser who runs the VIN will see these entries. Dealer buyers in this market routinely discount or decline vehicles with a "structural damage" disclosure, which is what the market data below shows.

4. Conclusion

Pre-loss market value (clean history; consistent with the insurer's ACV of $17,600.00)	$17,600.00
Post-repair market value (structural-damage history, properly repaired)	$14,000.00
DIMINISHED VALUE	$3,600.00

Loss as a percentage of pre-loss value: 20.5%

5. Certification and qualifications

I personally inspected the vehicle on 05/04/2026. The opinions in this report are my own, based on the inspection, the repair records and the market data cited. I have no interest in the vehicle or in the outcome of any claim, and my fee is not contingent on the value reported.
